

Hellgate

Bat out of hell conquers the world
Eaten by humans spread and hurled
The plague takes its course through human greed
Sold at markets, ready to eat

Now humans are split in getting the jab
Too many thickheads not trusting the lab
Spreading the disease even more
Beasts versus humans; one : zero the score

That's the revenge for being enslaved
A suffering mankind that is depraved

They live in the wilderness their real habitats
Stripped bare of the meat by human rats
Penned up in cages much too small

Hellgate of humanity – man-made
Hellgate of nature – bad trade
Hellgate for all of us – pure greed
Hellgate for beasts – no need

There is no return once you're face down
Lying there in the hospital gown
Sucking air that comes through a vent
Death has already sprayed its scent

But still, the beat of drums in the streets
Whips up the ones that don't see the needs

Hellgate of humanity – man-made
Hellgate of nature – bad trade
Hellgate for all of us – pure greed
Hellgate for beasts – no need

That's the revenge for being enslaved
A suffering mankind that is depraved
Giving back their real lives instead
Eating wild animals, screw that!
